Hastings+Chivetta designed the McFarlin Library addition and expansion to bring the facility into the 21st century. Spaces include two "iClass" multimedia classrooms that give groups full access to library resources in class, and two "iLab" computing centers that give students 24/7 library access. Existing computer centers were converted into reading rooms. New social venues include a coffee bar, student commons and lounge space with comfortable furniture and a wet bar.
Doherty Library, Danville, KY

The renovation and expansion of Doherty Library increased the facility’s capacity by 60,000 volumes and added classroom space and faculty offices. Hastings+Chivetta incorporated glass throughout the interior to provide maximum visibility for staff and still maintain the desired acoustic levels. New spaces include reading rooms, meeting rooms, study rooms and increased reference and archive space. Glass artwork designed by students and staff has been incorporated throughout the library.
James C. Kirkpatrick Library, Warrensburg, MO

Hastings+Chivetta, in association with Shepley Bulfinch Architects, designed a new facility to support UCM's vision and reputation as a leader in technology integration in teaching and research. The new facility provides a range of learning environments, including traditional classrooms, multimedia classrooms, distance learning classrooms, seminar rooms, and office/conference areas for library staff, campus media services and technical services. Reading spaces are grouped in a variety of configurations using tables, carrels, lounge seating and enclosed study rooms.
As part of a major addition and renovation, Hastings+Chivetta designed a new library for the Madison campus of Ivy Tech Community College, in association with the Estopinal Group. The library includes a traditional collection of over 7,100 volumes and access to a large virtual library, reference room, research, group study rooms, Student Success Center, computer stations and a 170-seat auditorium. A high-tech conference suite supports distance learning.
The Agnes Brown Duggan Library renovation, designed by Hastings+Chivetta, updates and modernizes library amenities for Hanover College. Included are increased stack space, reading rooms, conference rooms and group study rooms. Specialized spaces were developed to house the research department, archival storage, and a large maps area. Private study rooms, administrative offices and a staff lounge are also included.
Leaders in Collegiate Library Design
Hastings+Chivetta designs libraries for colleges and universities across the country that achieve the educational goals of each institution they serve. We create flexible, technology-rich learning commons that engage students and create a seamless network of support services.

We understand the challenges our clients face when competing for funding, and we know how to make the most of limited resources to create state-of-the-art spaces.

We create innovative facilities that promote interaction between faculty and students to create intellectual communities. Our broad experience, knowledge, collaborative approach and high-quality service, create the cornerstone of our practice:

“Building clients, not just projects.”
